MR, MARTIN IS INVITED TO COME SOUTH

Senator Gordon Makes a Speech on the Coxey Movement Today.

NO TRAMP ARMIES IN THIS SECTION.

The North Has Its Pensioners and Protection-It Also Has the Curse of Idle Factories and Unemployed Men.

Washington, May 9 .- (Special.)-The raiload commissioners' convention adjourned today. Judge Allen Fort was chosen as chairman of the convention to be held next year. He was also designated to prepare to be presented to congress an amendnent to the interstate commerce laws prohibiting railroads from introducting new evidence in cases appealed to the courts from mmission. The commission also decided to recommend to congress that pooling be legalized when approved by the Senators Walsh, Gordon and Jarvis, with Major Black, called upon the secretary of agriculture this morning and invited him to attend the immigration convention in Augusta on May 30th. Mr. Morton accepted on condition that his duties would permit his absence at that time.

Major Black introduced a resolution today instructing the printing committee to inquire and report to the house the number of employes in the public printing office. the states from which appointed and further to report if the force cannot be de-creased and to what extent. Major Black thinks that too much money is being expended by the government in printing.

No Coxeyites in the South. Senator Gordon will make a speech to-morrow on the Coxey movement. The matter was brought up in the senate by Mr. Allen, the populist, today and tomorrow it will be continued. Senator Gordon will make a speech showing that the south sends no men to Coxey's army. He will say that the south has received none of the benefits of protection; it has received no pensions; it has received nothing from the government, but has learned to rely upon itself, and, while its people are not as prosperous as they might be, there are no tramps among them. He will show that the southern people have learned to rely upon their own efforts and not to look to the government for support.

The Bank Tax Bill. At last the state bank tax bill is to have as inning in the house. An agreement was reached today by which it is to be taken up for discussion and final action on Wednesday of next week. On that day the oill exempting banks that issued certacates during the panic last summer from taxation on the same, comes up. The bill unonditionally repealing the 10 per cent tax on state banks will be offered as an amendment. There will be perhaps there days' liscussion and on Saturday the vote will be taken. The indications are that the vote will be very close. The friends of the bill think it will pass by a very small ma-

More Fighting to Be Done. It develops now that the tariff contest in nittee on Monday is not intended as a bill that shall become a law. It was drafted for the purpose of getting something that could pass. The republicans know that and now they are preparing a branch Dovered pit for the democrats to fall into. They want to force the passage of this bul. Not now, however. That would not suit their political purposes. Their idea is to debate this bill for two full months; to show up its inconsistencies and its folice; to show how it was graited and to lacerate the schedules in the minds of the Ameri-can people. They want to force heated disssions; to force democrats to defend every schedule. Then along in July they will be willing to vote. At that time the members house will be eager for adjournment They will want to get home and fix their fences for re-election. The republican senators believe the representatives will be se eager for adjournment that they will be in a state of mind-like the democratic senators are now-which will lead them to ac-cept almost anything to pass a bill and

In this programme is the great danger to the democratic party. The republicans may possibly be successful in it, though they will not be if the house leaders can co

The great stumbling block in the way of tariff legislation has been, and is now, that little element of democratic senators who term themselves the "conservatives." They interests of the party, and they have ced the party in the senate to bow to their will. Just what some of these sens tors have made out of it no one knows definitely, but more than one has perhaps feathered his financial nest.

Put Them to the Test. The question is now, would it not have n best at the outset to have forced these alleged "conservatives" to show their hands? There are those who doubt seriously whether they would have carried out their threats of voting against the bill had their demands not been granted. There are some senators who yet favor bringing these "nservatives" before the footlights. There are those who believe Mr. Hill's entire fight has been a bluff, and who favor calling him. Yet there have been too many conces-sions now to go backward. The democrats mongrel bill that is before the senate and force a vote upon it at the earliest possible moment. But that cannot be, under the present rules of the senate, until the re-publicans agree, and it is to their interest to stave off a vote at least two months.

Thus, finally, the only hope of the peopl must be in the house when the bill goes to onference. If the house will hold out yen if it takes all summer, for a pure tariff for-revenue bill, that will be the result. The senate is not so composed as to make such a bill. Mr. Hill, Mr. Smith, Mr. Mursuch a bill. Mr. Hill, Mr. Smith, Mr. Mur-phy, Mr. Brice, Mr. Blanchard, Mr. Caf-frey and others hold out against that, and in consequence the other democrats of the senate are powerless.

Jacksonville, Fla., May 9.—(Special.)—The injunction of Judge Call, of the circuit court, issued on January 24th last, was supposed to have settled the matter of boxing contests in Florida by practically legalizing them. It now appears, however, that A. G. Hartridge, the prosecuting attorney for this judicial circuit, took an appeal from Judge pudicial circuit, took an appeal from Judge Call's ruling to the supreme court and today the messenger of that tribunal served notices on the members of the Duval Athletic Club to appear in Tallahassee on June 12th to answer to the state's demurrer. Epileptic Fit. Chattanooga, Tenn., May 9.—(Special.)— The supreme lodge of the Car Inspectors' Protective Order of North America is still in session. A very busy day was passed in making some radical changes in the con-stitution and by-laws. The Railway Employes' Gazette, published in New York city, was made the official organ of the order. Considerable consternation was cre-ated this morning when Supreme Secretary Henry Schlobohn, of Chicago, fell sud-denly from his chair and lay as one dead. He revived on being carried to his hotel and given medical attention. His ailment was declared to be heart failure, but he will recover. The lodge will not finish its sessions before Friday, when the delegates will visit Atlanta en masse.

SENATORS DISCUSS THE WEALERS.

Galvin Is Bearing Down on the Capital with Reinforcements-Kelly's Men Are Floating Down Stream in Boats.

Washington, May 9.- "General" Coxey today appeared before the house committee on labor. He presented a petition from the ommonweal army that he and Carl Browns e permitted to address the committee in behalf of the Coxey bills for the construction of good roads, and for the issue of non-interest bearing bonds. Coxey's Petition.

Coxey laid before the committee a petition bearing the signatures of the followers, the character of their occupations and their places of residence. It was written on paper bearing the letterhead of the army of the commonweal. At the top of the page were printed in bold black letters the mottoes, "Good roads," good money," "good work." Beneath this appeared a single line: "Commonweal of Christ."

The petition is dated at "Camp Tyranny, in the field, Washington, D. C., May 9, 1894," and reads as follows:

"We, the undersigned citizens of the United States of America, now sojourning in the District of Columbia, which is not only the asylum of oppressed by all nations, but our national home, do hereby respect-fully petition your honorable body to allow Brother J. S. Coxey, of Massillon, O., and Carl Browne, of Calistiga, Cal., to appear before you as our spokesmen, to voice our wishes in regard to the proposed legislation for which we made the march to Washington, namely, the J. S. Coxey good roads and non-interest bearing bond bills, and which we believe if passed by contrasts would not only solve the present gress would not only soive the present prevalent business depression, give employ-ment to us, representing as we do all branches of industry of many millions more like us all over the union, but would effectually, we believe, provide against any possible recurrence of the extraordinary indition now existing in the industrial and business arteries of the nation which, it seems plain to us, if not remedied, will seems plain to us, it not remeties, win bring death to republican institutions or revolution to maintain them by force of arms, which all must deplore."

Coxey's petition was read by the clerk, ers of the committee following the Coxey Piled with Questions. Carl Browne came in as the clerk finished in seased humself beside Coxey. Mr. Mc Gann the chairman of the committee, said the petition would have to go to the spe-cial committee, which they hoped to have formed to investigate the entire subject of the industrial depression. Coxey ther took the floor and started to address the committee. He had only proceeded a moment when the members began questioning him. His replies to these queries were rambling and unsatisfactory. The impres-sion made by him upon the committee was obviously not a flattering one. He was obviously not a nattering one. He was treated courteously and held the floor for ten minutes, but he said nothing that was either original or profound or that added in any manner to the knowledge desired by the committee. He began by saying that billions of improvements ought to be made thoughout the country and that millions of thoughout the country and that people are ready to make them. The only thing needed was money. "We claim," he said, "the same privileges that 1 per cent of the people, the nationa have had to issue money based on the wealth of the state, country and municipality." Mr. Dunn, democrat, of New Jersey, asked if our institutions were to be turned into banking powers.

Mr. Coxey replied that the national banks had had that privilege for twenty years. Mr. Ryan, democrat, of New York-You claim to represent 99 per cent of the people of this country? Mr. Coxey-Yes, sir.

Mr. Ryan-On what do you base that Mr. Coxey—I claim that 99 per cent of the whole people ask the same privileges that per cent-the national bankers-have had for twenty-eight years; that 1 per cent has had money at a cost of 1 per cent, Mr. Ryan—The information I desire is by what warrant of authority you claim to rep-resent 99 per cent of the people of the untry. Mr. Coxey-I will answer you in this way. You can take the Farmers' Alliance, the Knights of Labor and other labor organizations and you will find in their pre-amble that they want money issued direct-ly without interest. All the orders are dending that. It is true they have not been voting the way they have been thinking. I will acknowledge that.

Mr. Ryan—Don't you believe that more than 1 per cent of the people are represented in congress?

Mr. Coxey—Yes, I believe they have been misrepresented.

Mr. Ryan—I would like to know by what authority you say you represent 99 what authority you say you represent so per cent of the people?

Mr. Coxey—I came here to request that this 39 per cent of the people be given the same privilege under the constitution which guarantees equal and exact justice to all the people that the I per cent have had for twenty-eight years.

for twenty-eight years.

Mr. Ryan-I unstood you to say you came here representing 30 per cent of the people. Of course if that be the case we would like to have the proof of it, so that congress can act, and, I presume, congress would act with the request of 99 per cent of the people. How can you show that you represent 99 per cent of the people?

represent 99 per cent of the people?

Mr. Coxey—I do not claim that, sir.

This closed the hearing of Coxey. He was followed by I. E. Dean, of Pennsylvania, a member of the executive committee of the Farmers' Alliance. He urged the appointment of a special committee to investigate the whole subject of industrial depression, and said that such an action on the part of congress would inspire great confidence among the people.

The district commissioners spent several hours today considering the report of the hours today considering the report of the health department which pronounced the Coxey camp a menace to the health of the city and recommended, in the strongest language, that it be vacated. Dr. Hammett, health officer, declared that it was atterly impossible to make the camp habitable. It is likely that a warrant will be sworn out charging Coxey with maintaining a nulsance. Coxey is getting ready to meet such a proceeding. He had a number of men at work improving the ground this men at work improving the ground this morning, but illness in the army is steadily increasing. Thirteen men are already in local hospitals and many in the camp are suffering from various complaints.

Late this afternoon Coxey was served with a notice to comply with the health regulations in regard to his camp within fortyeight hours, otherwise he will be prosecuted under a statute which imposes a fine of from $5 to $25 for each offense.

Coxey today repudiated the statement made yesterday by Representative Hudson, of Kansas, that he (Coxey) would leave the city as soon as he could be heard by either a house or senate committee. "If Hudson did say so," continued Coxey, "he did not represent me. I do not propose to go. I am here to get redress for the grivances of the people, and will stay until my mission is accomplished. There will be a great many more of us here a month hence than there are now, and we propose to keep up this agitation until something is accom-plished."

ADVICE TO COXEY.

John Sherman Hopes the General Will Go Home and Stay There. of the senate today the resolution offered last Monday by Mr. Allen, of Nebraska, for the appointment of a select committee to investigate the police assault upon the arrest of Coxey. Browne and Jones in the capitol grounds on the 1st of May was laid before the senate and Mr. Allen made an argument in support or it. He had expected he said that the senator from Ohio Ohio had taken no such step, he (Mr. Allen) had been moved to do so. He had deemed it his duty, although it was not a pleasure by any means to offer a resolution, for the purpose of having a thorough and complete investigation of the remarkable

Mr. Sherman's Advice to Coxey. Mr. Sherman expressed his great regret that when important business was pressing this resolution should be brought be-fore the senate and occupy its time. The whole thing, he asserted, was a shame and pretense without a shadow of foundation. Nobody, Mr. Sherman said, had ever defiled the right of petition. Coxey knew that any member of the senate, or of the house, would present his petition, and the house, would present his petition, and the petition of the men who were with him. He deeply regretted the error which had led Coxey to Washington and his wild delusion that congress could step into the arena and build up roads in all the townships, counties and states in the United States. There, could be no wilder or more extravagant proposition presented. The senator from Nebraska (Mr. Allen), had tried to make a here out of Coxey. For senator from Neoraska (air. Alien), hal tried to make a hero out of Coxey. For what? Not for what he proposed, because the senator himself, although his views were extreme, dared not endorse the "good roads bills," and dared not endorse the assembling of men around the capitol. The object of the founders of the government in having an exclusively federal district was to protect the government from any such to protect the government from any such foray as that of Coxey and his followers. It had been done wisely in the light of experience in England and France. If Coxey had the right to harangue from the capitol the United States, nor the vice president of the United States had any such right. Coxey had been allowed any right which anyey had been allowed any right which any-body could have exercised. He (Mr. Sher-man), believed that Coxey was, on the whole, a kind, good-tempered man in many respects, but he thought that he was a little flighty. (Laughter.) He would not say anything unkind of him, because he was a constituent, and he felt bound to prowas a constituent, and he telt sound to pro-tect him if he were unduly injured. But Coxey had come to the capital with the deliberate and determined purpose to vio-late the law, which had been so wisely framed by the ex-senator from Vermont— Balance of the Epidemic Fund.

Birmingham, Ala., May 10 .- (Special.)-At 10 o'clock last night the local military was ordered to their armories to await further orders from Colonel Clark, commanding the First regiment. No man was allowed to leave the armories. Information had been received from Pratt City, where the convict prisons are located, that a large number of strikers, fully armed, were in the woods on the outskirts of the town. Couriers from Pratt City said that an attack on the prisons was to take place. Upon this information the military were ordered to their posts. An attack was feared. All was apprehension but the authorities decided to make no further move until further information was obtained.

The officials of the various coal companies had a consultation with the sheriff and Colonel Clark, of the militia. Couriers were stationed all over the district where trouble is anticipated. Telephone messages from Pratt City to the sheriff at midnight said that the armed miners had secreted themselves very mysteriously.

Half an hour after midnight couriers from Pratt City reported that the armed mob had dispersed and that no further trouble need be feared tonight. At 1 o'clock this morning the military companies were dismissed. NEGRO MINERS GO OUT.

They Feared Trouble from Strikers and Quit Work.

Birmingham, Ala., May 9.—(Special.)— What was expected last night in the manner of a march to Blue Creek to aid the strikers who were being evicted proved a failure from the fear of being severely dealt with if any violence was attempted. The only feature of the situation today was the fact that the negro miners at Milldale went out from fear of being dealt with by strikers. Notices at Milldale had been posted threatening the miners with death if they did not cease to mine coal. The notices were signed with daggers and cross ones. The negroes positively refused to work for this cause.

Deputy sheriffs were sent to the scen for the purpose of quelling any disturbance that might occur. At Adger, Blue Creek and Brookside miners are being made to vacate houses and indignation on the part of the strikers is manifest. The situation is still threatening and an outbreak may occur at any time. The miners' executive committee, at the request of Governor Jones, is in conference with him at Mont-

Dr. Haynes spoke at length of the deplorable absence of catechisms in Methodist Sunday schools. He said: "We are raising a generation of Methodists who will not be Methodists when they are grown. The Methodist church cannot retain her hold if the catechism is not studied." His speech was a very strong one and elicited applause. Dr. Alexander moved the original ques-tion. The Trial of a Bishop.

The committee recommended an amendment to the amendment to the answer to puestion 1, chapter 7 on the trial of a bishop, which "is to the general conference, who have power to expel him for improper conduct, if they see it necessary." The committee recommended the insertion of "try and acquit, suspend or expel" after "to" in answer 1. Dr. Whitehead moved sary" as an amendment. The amendment to the report was put and carried.

The next question and answer was read.
They are as follows:
Question 2. What provision is made for the trial of a bishop, if he should be accused of immorality in the interval of the general conference?

Answer 1. When a bishop shall be under report or be accused of immorality, three traveling elders shall call upon him and carefully inquire into the case and if they believe him guilty, or there be strong pre-sumption of his guilt, they shall report the matter to any bishop; and it shall be his duty to summon together at some conven-ient place not less than twelve traveling elders and also the witnesses by whom the accusation is expected to be established; and the said elders shall form a committee for the investigation of the charge brought against the bishop, and if two-thirds them believe an investigation necessary, they shall have power to suspend him un-til the ensuing general conference. The presiding bishop shall cause an exact record of the investigation, signed by the presi-dent and secretary, to be transmitted to the general conference. By this record and such other testimony as may be obtained, the case shall be considered and determined by the general conference without the in-tervention of another committee. Ad-

Elected by the Colored Methodists Yesterday.

Memphis, Tenn., May 9 .- At the colored Methodist conference today Bishop Lane, of Jackson, Tenn., called the conference to order and after religious exercises conducted by T. Martin, of South Carolina, the choir sang; "Oh, for a Faith That Will Not Shrink."

It was ascertained that a quorum was present and Secretary Hamlin read the minutes of the previous day's meeting. The minutes were approved after several necessary corrections.

Bishop Lane at this juncture surrendered the chair to Bishop Beebe. The rules were suspended and the conference listened to the report of Rev. R. T. Brown, secretary of the general missionary board. Rev. Brown reported total receipts for missions for the past four years, 87,898.55; disbursements, 87,898.55. The report was received and an auditing committee appointed to ex-

The secretary called the roll and 111 delegates answered. Bishop Beebe appointed kogers and Breeding to serve as tellers. Fifty-six votes were declared necessary to elect. On the second ballot R. S. Williams, of Louisville, received seventy-one votes and was declared a bishop.

The roll was again called for the election of the second bishop and Rev. E. Cottrell, of Dyersburg, Tenn., received the necessary votes and was declared elected.

Both of the successful candidates madappropriate speeches and received enthusiastic applause.

Bishop Lane pronounced the benediction and the conference adjourned.

An Old Man Discovers a High Trestle on Fire.

BARELY ABLE TO SMOTHER THE FLAMES.

He Signals an Approaching Train with Bed Blanket, Then Skips Away Before the Passengers Can Reward Him.

Montgomery, Ala., May 9,—(Special.)—An incident full of sentiment and one worthy a poet's panygeries occurred on the Mineral railroad near Dothan yesterday. An aged and infirm old man was slowly dragging his frail old body along beside the railroad track toward Dothan, when he discovered in front of him a burning trestle. It spanned a small creek which ran between a precip itous bluff on which rested the two ends of the trestle. The old man realized the situation. He knew a train might pass at any moment. On account of a sharp curve in the track just beyond the trestle toward Dothan, the engineer would have no notice of the danger until too late to avert it. The old man hurried to the nearest dwelling. Nobody was at home, but he effected an entrance and securing a red blanket, he made his way back to the burning trestle as fast as he could. Without any assistance he smothered out the flames, after six or eight feet of the woodwork had been burned away, and then stationing himself beyond the curve, he waved the red blanket, the signal of danger, and succeeded in flagging down the approaching train, which was coming at a head-long rate and which on account of the grade, was not brought to a stop, despite the prompt action of the engineer until on the very brink of the chasm caused by the fire. When the pas-sengers learned what a narrow escape from certain death they had experienced intense excitement prevailed, and when this had subsided sufficiently to allow them to realize the gratitude due their protector lo, the old man was gone. Nor has he since been heard of.

Ineffectual efforts have been made to learn in the neighborhood of the occurrence, who the old man was, but nothing can be heard of him. His prompt action saved the lives of a hundred people and the destruc-tion of much valuable property, and the old fellow will, at least, be rewarded with the consciousness of a good deed nobly Experimenting with Tobacco

A Motion to Restore Two Rectors to the Roll Is Lost.

Columbia, S. C., May 9.—(Special.)—The 104th annual convention of the Episcopal diocese of South Carolina assembled in Trin ity church here today, Assistant Bishop Ellison Capers presiding. Seventy-seven delegates were present. The sermon was preact ed by the Rev. W. B. Williams, rector of the church of Prince George, of Winyah. It was a strong exposition of the duties of the clergy and the responsibilities of their relation to the church. Rev. John D. Mc-Cullough, of Glenn Springs, was re-elected secretary and F. A. Mitchell, of Charleston, was made treasurer. The privileges of the floor were extended to the Rev. Dr. Harvey O. Judd, of Macon, formerly pastor of Trinity church of this city.

At the afternoon session the committee on credentials reported that all the clergy whose names appeared on the bishop's list be entitled to seats except Rev. Messrs. Campbell and Trapier, of Charleston. The discussion of this report consumed the entire afternoon session. These who favored the report did so on the ground that neither of the clergymen mentioned had for some years made any reports to ecclesiastica authority as required by the canon. Mr. R. W. Shand, as chancellor of the diocese, was requested to state his opinion of the church laws bearing upon the question, with especial reference to the advice which he had given the bishop to the effect that the names of Dr. Campbell and Mr. Trapier should be placed upon the clergy list. Mr. Shand was clear in his judgment that, notwithstanding the amendments to the constitution adopted in 1889, and the particular attitude of these gentlemen toward the convention, the are still canonically entitled to seats in the body.

Bishop Capers stated that it was his

He thought these facts promised well for the future and gave hope of the return of these rectors and their churches to their old places in the convention. A motion to recommit the report was lost by a very decided vote. Mr. A. N. Talley, of Columbia, mov at to strike from the report of the committee so much thereof as excluded the names of Dr. Campbell and Mr. Trapier from the roll of Campbell and Mr. Trapier from the roll of the clergy. A motion was then made to ad-journ, which was lost. After considerable discussion a vote by orders was taken on. Dr. Talley's motion, resulting: Ciergy, 11; nays, 13. MILLS ON THE TARIFF.

He Stands for an Honest Bill Which Redeems the Democratic Pledges. Washington, May 10 .- The tariff bill was taken up today at 1:10 o'clock after the de bate over the Coxey committee.

Mr. Hale and Mr. Aldrich commented upon the fact that members of the finance committee on either side disagreed with each other as to the amendment, and taunted the democrats with infidelity to their platform, which had declared protection in the United States to be unconstitutional, and Mills Explains His Position.

The taunt had an immediate effect upon Mr. Mills, who took the floor as soon as Mr. Aldrich had finished his remarks, and passionate and excited manner referred his speech several weeks ago, in which he declared himself to b. (as between the McKinley act and the Wilson bill) "between the devil and the deep sea," and said: "A change has come over the spirit of the situation, not over my spirit. I have not got as much sea room as on that occasion. I find that the bill pending before us is not the Wilson bill, but a bill which ought, perhaps, to bear the honored name of the senator from Maryland (Mr. Gorman), or of the senator from Ohio (Mr. Brice). No man can torture me into the admission that the bill pending before this body is, in any respect, an answer to pledges made by democratic national convention to the nocratic people of the United States. I have said, and I expect to say as long as I keep my understanding, that taxation levied on value is the only honest system of taxation, and that the specific system of taxation is imposed for the purpose of concealing facts and deluding the govern-ment for the benefit of the favored classes.

Half a dozen senators spoke upon this amendment. Mr. Harris several times moved to lay it upon the table, but had withdrawn his motion to permit other senators to speak. Finally Mr. Harris refused to again withdraw his motion, and a vote was taken, resulting: Yeas, 32; nays, 20, as follows: Yeas—Messrs. So Senator Lodge's amendment was laid on the table, and the tariff bill then went over till tomorrow.

A substitute for the Coxey resolution was offered by Mr. Teiler, republican, of Colorado, and accepted by Mr. Allen, and went over till tomorrow. It omits the preamble and provides for a select committee to investigate all the facts and circumstances connected with the arrest and imprisonment of Coxey, Browne and Jones, and with the general conduct of the police on the 1st of May; also as to whether any further information is needful for the protection of the park and the grounds and for the protection of citizens who may visit the national capitol.

The senate then proceeded to the consideration of executive business, and at 6 o'clock p. m. adjourned until tomorrow.

and let us show rchasing power Douglasville, Ga., May 9 .- (Special.)-The democrats of Douglas county in a mass meeting today, by a vote of 121 to 74, elected delegates to the gubernatorial convention, and instructed them for Mr. Atkinson. His personal friends in the county have been particularly active in his behalf, this being in the same senatorial district with Mr. Atkinson's home county-Coweta. Local influences were also directed to him through the candidacy of Dr. Whitely, of this county, for the state senate.

Atkinson Men Capture It Through a

Mass Meeting.

SOME RESOLUTIONS PUT THROUGH.

Mr. Cleveland's Patriotism Is Commended

but the County Cannot Go His Financial Policy-Candidates Endorsed.

United States District Attorney Joe James was one of Mr. Atkinson's most pronounced supporters in the county, and, all things considered, the result is fust as was expected, though had there been a primary election General Evans would have carried the county two to one. Considerable complaint has already been called forth by the fact that today's action was taken in a mass meeting in which only 195 men participated, out of the full democratic strength of the county. It is feared that this will be used with the strong populist element of the county in the regular election, and that the action of such a slimly attended mass meeting will have a generally bad effect throughout the rank and file of the party in the county.

Hon. Columbus Blair was nominated for the house of representatives.

A new democratic executive committee was also elected. It is composed of the following: B. G. Griggs, chairman; W. L. Pool, secretary; W. A. James, James A. Watson, M. A. Gore, W. J. Camp, W. R. Gaines, Joe Giles, W. R. Daniel, W. A. Sayre, John B. Duncan, John M. James, A. Hembree, D. P. White and J. H. McLarty.

Hon. J. S. James was made chairman of the Atkinson delegation, and Hon. W. T. Roberts was encorsed for solicitor general of the Tallapoosa circuit, while delegates were chosen for Dr. Whitely for the sen-

Fun with Resolutions. The most interesting incident of the day was in the introduction of resolutions concerning the national administration, this being the home county of District Attorney James, who was, of course, very anxious that sweeping resolutions of endorsement concerning the administration should be passed, and he did not hesitate to make known his desire to his friends. He made it a personal matter on the ground that it would not come in good grace for his county to take issue with the administration, and urged his friends to assist him in securing proper resolutions. Then came the rub. Mr. James is not only one of the most popular men in the county, but has also many friends through-out the state who are always ready to serve him. But he struck a serious snag among his friends here, who, while being willing to do anything they could to serve him personally, drew the line on resolutions of unqualified endorsement which might put the county in the attitude of endorsing the administration's views on the financial question. Then it was that the original resolutions, which had been outlined, were greatly modified and prepared for the meeting. But even the change did not satisfy some of the rock-ribbed democrats, who wanted no flaw in the change that the change is the country of the change that the country is the country of ribbed democrats, who wanted no flaw in their endorsement of the democratic plat-form, and who were unwilling to contribute in any way to a straddling resolution con-cerning the silver question. "But," argued the other side, "there must be no question about our resolutions. We must give an unequivocal endorsement of the administration, for personal considera-tion for Mr. James demands that his own

"Nay, nay, Pauline!" responded the other side. "We will do anything in the world we can consistently to serve our esteemed friend Joe, but it will be a coil day in August when we, the democrats of Douglas county, pass resolutions approving John Sherman's financial policy, ratifying the single gold standard, and making a sweep-ing endorsement of the financial policy, which has brought ruin and destitution upon the country."

Then it was apparent that a row was mminent, and that the meeting, which had promised to be such a harmonious one-for, through the intercession of Mr. James and Dr. Whitely, the meeting had practically settled for Mr. Atkinson, was in danger of being broken up by a row over the question of the unqualified endorsement of the administration

Of course, all this happened before the meeting, and in private conference among those most interested. After a while it was finally agreed that there would be no row over the resolutions, if no effort was made to pass a sweeping endorsement of the administration's policy. This the friends of Mr. James agreed to privately, if the other side was willing to admit the patriotism and honesty of Mr. Cleveland.

Of course, this was readily agreed to, as the democrats of the county, while widely differing from Mr. Clevelani on financial questions, are ready to accede to him honesty of purpose in his views. This is the inside story of how it was that the following resolutions were finally agreed to. As will be seen, they cover the democratic ground entirely, and calmly avoid making any reference to any possible endorsement of the administration which could be considered as in any way and or selections.

endorsing its attitude on the financial saw at once that it would plunge the meeting into turmoil, and were not willing to risk it, even with the prestige of Mr. James's appointment to back it.

But the resolutions speak for themselves and they are as follows:
"Resolved, first, That we hereby pledge our fealty to the democratic party, both state and national; that if the people of this country receive any relief from any party, we believe that such relief will come through the democratic party and none other.

"Resolved, second, That we express the utmost confidence in the patriotism, honesty and fidelity of Grover Cleveland, president of the United States, and in the present congress of the United States."

Emanuel County's Democrats Call for the Judge Speer Appoints an Administrator Carrying Out of the Pledges.

NO COMPROMISE WITH GOLDBUGS.

The People Want Representatives Who Keep in Touch with Them, and Who Work to Carry Out the Pledges.

Swainsboro, Ga., May 9.—(Special.)—The democrats of Emanue; county will act in primary on June 13th, on which day the county will elect delegates to the gubernatorial convention. The most significant feature of the action of the executive committee was the emphasis of their endorsement of the national democratic platform and the expression of discontent at the delay in carrying out the mandate of the party as expressed in the national platform. The resolutions took strong ground for the redemption of every democratic pledge and called for the election of representatives who can be depended upon to stand absolutely in touch with nt of the people in securing na-

Herrington for Congress. It is very probable that Hon. Alf Herrington, of Emanuel county, will make the race for congress. He is being ursed by his friends to do so, and while he has not decided yet what course he will pursue, it is not at all unlikely that he will make the race.

The Second in the First. Emanuel county is the second county in the first district to unqualifiedly and enthusiastically endorse the national democratic platform, and to make no compromise which looks to even a quasi endorse-ment of the single gold standard policy, which the eastern democrats in combina-tion with the republicans have been able to carry to a successful conclusion

The counties of the first district are practically unanimous in favor of the redemp-tion of every pledge of the democratic platform, and in their unyielding and uncom promising opposition to every effort to de-stroy silver as a standard money metal. 248 Majority for Evans.

Dawson, Ga., May 9.—(Special.)—The official consolidated returns of Terrell's democratic primary give General C. A. Evans 248 majority. This does very well when it is remembered that the Atkinson men claimed the county by 200 majority before the election

Now that the gubernatorial matter is off the minds of the voters, interest in the legislative race is warming up. Three wellknown citizens have announced their candidacy, viz: Major B. H. Hood, Hon. A. C. Hall and Judge W. D. Murray. There may be other entries later on.

It may safely be said that one-half were Evans men. His speech in the main was a resume of his former speeches in comparison of records. Mr. Atkinson denounced Richmond county's primary as unjust to himself. Executive Committee Meeting.

RUFUS CARSWELL THE PETITIONER.

Interest on His Bonds Has Not Been Paid An Effort Being Made to Reorganize the Company-Other News.

Maron, Ga., May 9 .- (Special.)-The Macon Gaslight and Water Company was put in the hands of a temporary receiver tonight on a bill brought in the United States court by Rufus H. Carswell, of Chattanooga, The bill was signed by Judge Speer, and United States Marshal Leverett was appointed temporary receiver. He is in charge of the Carswell owns $5,000 of third mortgage bonds of the company, bearing 6 per cent interest per annum, on which the semi-annual interest of $150, which was due May 1st, was defaulted. Carswell formerly lived in Twiggs county. The bill was drawn by Alexander Proudfit and Marion Erwin, Macon attorneys.

Judge Speer's order was served on President A. E. Boardman, of the company, tonight and through the company's attorney, Claud Estes, the officers of the company tendered to the plaintiff the amount of interest alleged to be due him, and offered to pay whatever costs and attorney's fees were attached, but the bill could not be dis missed tonight by Judge Speer at his residence as it must be dismissed at chambers. It is not known whether or not he will consent to dismiss it in the morning. The company defaulted May 1st on about $11,000 of semi-annual interest that was due May 1st, on second and third mortgage bonds.

The bondholders have been in session in Macon several days and a committee appointed to form some plan of reorganization which it was thought would be perfected by Friday and everything run along smooth. and the Carswell bill was a surprise. There are $500,000 of bonds of the company, about $115,000 being first mortgage. The Carswell bill alleges that the floating indebtedness of the company is $212,000. These bonds cover the entire gas, water and electric plants of the company. The property is thought to be worth over one million dollars. An effort will be made tomorrow to have the Carswell bill dismissed so that the plan of reorganization can proceed and the value of the plant be preserved. Several days prior to May 1st the company sent out a circular letter to the bondholders notifying them that the May interest would not be paid promptly. The affair would have been settled tonight had the tender of money made by the company's aftorney to Carswell's attorney been accepted. The Carswell bill was a surprise as his bonds were represented in the bondholders' meeting at which a committee was appointed to formulate a plan of adjustment of the company's affairs which committee has not yet reported, and which plan was intended to protect the mutual interests of all the bondholders. The bill for temporary receiver was served at 9 o'clock tonight, and was the first intimation that the company had of any dissatisfaction on the part of Mr. Carswell. He has never made any demand for payment of his interest at the office of the company or of the trustee. The bill does not allege

Twenty-four to Four.

The democrats of Pierce county, or those who officially represent them, have now joined those of Coffee, Clinch and Ware in unreservedly endorsing every act of the administration, and of Mr. Cleveland, so that in numbers the score to date stands four counties for unqualified endorsement and twenty-four against.

Pierce declares that the administration of President Cleveland is "the simple interpretation of the principles and platform 49 the democratic party."

This declaration goes several notches further than the endorsements of Clinch. Ware and Coffee, but it shows either that the democrats of Pierce have the courage of their convictions or that the patronage whip is being used with effect. Courage is what The Constitution admires, and that is the way to settle the issue so far as the democrats of Georgia are concerned.

If the farmers of Pierce county are in favor of 6-cent cotton, and 30-cent corn, they have the right to say so. If the business men of that section are in favor of depression in all branches of trade and the effectual strangulation of prosperity, it is not only their right, but their duty to say so. If they believe that the abolition of more than one-half of the money basis of the country is conducive to the welfare of the people, there is no reason why they should conceal their opinions.

If they believe that the congressmen from Georgia and the south have misrepresented democratic principles and purposes in not following the financial lead of John Sherman, it is their duty to announce their belief in a clear and an unmistakable manner., Certainly the announcement of the Pierce county democrats could not be plainer than it is.

There is one curious fact about these endorsements of the republican and Wall street financial policy. They have all occurred in the eleventh district, and they represent a class of voters who have a vital interest in getting better prices for their produce, and in maintaining the harmony and unity that give strength to the democratic organization in Geor-

We say it is curious that this endorsement of Wall street's interpretation of the democratic platform should be confined to one district. Liberty county, not far away, but in another district, stands firmly by democratic principles and by the interpretation of the platform that alone gave victory to the democrats in 1892; and, as near as we have it, twentyfour counties in other sections of the state have renewed their allegiance to the democratic platform, carefully avoiding an endorsement of the financial policy of the administration and often condemning it.

What is the matter with the eleventh district? In what way will the demonetization of silver help the people there while it kills business and crushes out prosperity among the rest of the people? This is a matter we should like to see discussed and illuminated. Why are the voters of the eleventh district renouncing their allegiance to the democratic state platform and to the Chicago platform, and endorsing measures that could only be forced through congress by the aid of John Sherman and the republi-

But there are ten other districts in Georgia and it will be observed that every one of them is standing by the Work of the Gold Standard. The single gold standard is putting in lts work. Unemployed labor cries for bread and is rewarded with a stone. The country north of the Potomac is filled with tramps. Within the past week dangerous riots have occurred in Pennsylvania and Ohio, and our news columns are crowded with the latest reports from the armies of Coxey, Frye, Sanders, Kelly and Galvin. Tramps seize and hold a passenger train in Ohio, and the Pennsylvania railroad is compelled to cut 7,000 employes af Altoona down to four days work a week. The deadly blight of the gold standard has not been long in making itself felt. From Maine to California, from the St. Lawrence to the Ohio, a dozen demonstrative movements are in progress.

industries are shut down or half The Shylock goldbugs and the states men under their control are chattering and gabbling about the distribution of troops, and the better organization of the militia and the police. If the gold standard in six months has more than doubled pauperism and crime driven the starving poor to suicide, filled the land with armies of tramps, wiped out $2,000,000,000 of property values, turned the farmers into peons, and arrayed the people against the law, what will be the result six months or a year later?

If any of our goldbug statesmen have even a superficial acquaintance with history, and if they know anything of human nature, we commend this review of the situation to their serious consideration.

What is going to be done about it? We confess that we do not know. The jargon of the goldbugs is about as rational as the utterances of Bedlam, and about as intelligible as the clamor of Babel. Carry out the democratic platform!

The Platform and the People.

We observe that Mr. Boykin Wright, of Augusta, has fallen under the displeasure of our evening contemporary. The offense of Mr. Wright consists in the fact that he believes it to be the duty of the democratic administration and the democratic congress to carry out the financial pledge made in the Chicago platform. Ordinarily a sincere desire to preserve and maintain party nonesty and party integrity is not regarded as a very grave offense; but in the eyes of those who are interested in engrafting the financial views of John Sherman upon the body of democratic opinion, the offense of Mr. Wright is a very grave

If the democrats of Georgia are to the induced to accept and endorse the financial policy of Wall street, they must first be led to believe that this Wall street policy is good democratic doctrine and that it is embodied in the constitution and law of the party. Hence it is peculiarly embarrassing to such organs as our evening contemporary for a stanch and true democratic leader to put forward an appeal for party integrity and party harmony. We are of the opinion that the embarrassment of our evening contemporary will grow to huge proportions before it has disposed of the issue it is striving to make in Georgia poli-

Mr. Wright's conservative resolutions, inspired by a deep concern for party harmony in a district where the strength of the party has been most severely tried, were unanimously adopted by the largest mass meting of democrats that ever assembled in Richmond county. In all fairness our contemporary ought to transfer its criticisms of Mr. Wright to the shoulders of the united and harmonious democracy of Richmond; but it would be idle to deny that the position which Mr. Wright occupies in the party in the tenth district gives peculiar significance to the fact that he presented the Richmond resolutions, renewing the alleglance of the democracy of that county to the principles of the platform. Our evening contemporary says that "Mr. Wright, like The Constitution, stands with one foot on the platform and the other in the air." If this is true now it was true in 1892. Mr. Wright and The Constitution interpret the platform now precisely as they did in 1892. When the campaign was at its hottest and when there were whispered rumors and suggestions of democratic defection, Mr. Wright and The Constitution, and, indeed, all the democratic voters and newspapers in the south, were telling the people that the democratic financial pledge meant the free coinage of silver. Mr. Wright and The Constitution, and, rest were pleading for harmony and unity on the ground that the party had never since the war had an opportunity to put in operation the measures of relief and reform to which it had . solemnly pledged itself.

In order that we may make perfectly clear the fact that Mr. Wright and The Constitution were not singular in their interpretation of the financial pledge of the Chicago platform we desire to call renewed attention to the effective campaign made by Secretary Hoke Smith in favor of the free coinage of silver. At that time Secretary Smith was in control of, as he is now its owner, our evening contemporary, directing with great ability its editorial course. While the campaign was pending, Secretary Smith not only never ventured to hint that the Chicago platform was in favor of the financial policy of Wall street and opposed to the free coinage of silver, but he took the stump and declared that the democratic pledge meant the free coinage of silver. He made this declaration not only once, but many times, and in the presence of hundreds of democrats in Campbell county. We do not know how often he made the same declaration in other speeches, but in his address to the voters of Campbell county, assembled at Enoch church, he analyzed the platform pledge by pledge, and assured his audience that the financial pledge meant the free coinage of silver. This was the promise made to the voters, but now when the time comes for performance, our evening contemporary contends that the interpretation put upon the Chicago platform by Mr. Wright, Secretary Smith, The Constitution and the whole body of southern democrats is not the true one, but that, in truth and in fact, the platform means nothing less than the demonetization of silver. In short, our evening contemporary and those who agree with it, place themselves in the attitude of saying to the people: "You were fools and we Commerce is stagnant and the leading knew it. We were somewhat foolish ourselves, but we suspected it. Everybody is a fool except Mr. Cleveland. He alone knew that the Chicago convention favored the financial policy of Wall street." We are perfectly willing that this element should have all the benefits to be derived from its present line of argument, and we are anxious that the whole contention should be settled promptly by the people.

Mr. Wright's position now is precisely what it was when, as chairman of the democratic campaign committee in the tenth district, he found it necessary to unite the forces of democracy against the elements that were seeking to weaken and defeat it. He stood for the true democratic doctrine then and he stands for it now. He sought to save the party in his district then, and he seeks to strengthen and harmonize it now. That is why he insists that the Chicago platform is an emanation from the party and not from Wall street. That is why all true democrats stand with Mr. Wright and the Richmond democracy. They want to save the party in Georgia and not destroy it.

A Great Establishment. In the reorganization of the old firm of Marsh, Smith & Co. Mr. E. W. Marsh, well known as one of Atlanta's oldest, most enterprising and highly respected citizens, retires from active business, and the great establishment which is so closely identified with Atlanta's history, will be conducted under the firm name of Inman, Smith & Co. Mr. Hugh T. Inman, one of the most successful financiers and business men of the south, becomes the head of the firm, while his associates are Mr. John A. Smith, who has for years been associated with Mr. Marsh, and Mr. Henry C. Leonard, formerly manager for Bradstreet's, and for wo years a member of the firm of Marsh, Smith & Co.

The new firm becomes one of the most conspicuous of the great business establishments of the south. It will make a specialty of shoes, notions, furnishing goods, and the manufacture of pants, it already having more than seventy-five hands steadily at work exclusively at the latter branch of its business. With men of such eminent business ability at its head, and with its unusual strength in the financial world, the new firm will at once take its place in the front rank of similar establishments.

The confidence and the good will of every one will follow Mr. E. W. Marsh in his retirement to private life to the rest so fully earned after years of unceasing labor. He has been an energetic worker not only for his own, but for the public good, and long after he is gone the great business founded by him will last as a monument to his enterprise, his integrity and his eminent business ability. Coming to Atlanta with but little means, he has earned a fortune and retires with a handsome competency. His legion of friends earnestly hope that he will be spared many years, and that his rest from active business life will be as much enjoyed and as beneficial as it is merited. He is a model citizen and has the confidence and best wishes of the entire city.

The democrats of Wilkes do not endorse the Wall street financial policy. They say they want all the pledges of the platform redeemed.

It is evidently going to be a difficult job for the goldbugs to destroy the democratic party in Georgia this year. How many democrats of the eleventh con gressional district are ready to go to the polls and endorse the results of the Wall street financial policy that is now ruining the country?

Next Saturday will settle the Alabama gubernatorial contest. The campaign has been warm, but good-humored.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

Another famous woman writer, Miss Olive Schreiner, has gone over to the married mi-nority. On April 25th she became Mrs. Crinwright. Her husband is a clever, hardheaded young colonist, with much force of character and strong views on South Afri-can politics. He is about thirty. Far up-country, in the solitude beloved by the gifted authoress, have the bride and bride-groom commenced their wedded life. Mrs. Crinwright will still be Olive Schreiner to the reading public.

Colonel Breckinridge's idea is that a mar who can lead a double life nine years be-fore he is found out possesses all the essen-tial qualifications of a statesman.

A new remedy for dyspepsia and stomach trouble has made its appearance in south-ern Oregon. It is nothing less than a spoon-ful of common, every-day, river-bottom sand, taken wet, just after meals. William Bybee, a well-known citizen and proprietor of Bybee's springs, is supposed to be the originator of this queer remedy; but quite a number of veracious gentlemen testify to its curative properties, which are sup posed to take the form of mechanical actio by carrying off impurities from the mucou lining of the walls of the stomach. "Tak sand," is quite a popular piece of advice around Ashland when any one complains of chronic stomach trouble. As there is no patent on the sand, that commodity being within the reach of the poorest of us, this article cannot be called a patent medicine advertisement.

Among those who telegraphed congratu-lations to Mr. Walsh on his appointment as a senator from Georgia was a New York man who chanced to share Mr. Walsh's umbrella for a few minutes some two yea

Says The Chicago Herald: "W. C. P. Breckinridge's campaign in the seventh Kentucky district is already beginning to attract the attention of those ill-balanced and morbid women who are often heard of in connection with famous criminals and in connection with famous criminals, and other persons who have attained unenviable notoriety. Colonel Breckinridge is scarcely to be placed in the same category with murderers and assassins, but the women who have begun sending him bouquets and letters of sympathy are undoubtedly of the same mental composition as those who lavish their sympathies upon condemned criminals. The defendant is about the last man in America for whom a pright-mided we in America for whom a bright-minded wo-man would feel any commiseration. Mr. Cleveland's Prudence

From The New York Advertiser.

It was while going to Fredericksburg to lay the corner stone of this very monument in 1833 that President Andrew Jackson was assaulted at Alexandria, Va., by a man named Beverly Randolph, whom he had turned out of the navy for malfeasance The president was on board the steamboat which was conveying him to Fredericks-burg and was engaged in smoking his pipe and reading a newspaper, the boat being moored at the time at the Alexandria wharf. Randolph boarded the vessel, ap-proached the president and, after deouncing him wildly and hurriedly, pulled his nose. There was naturally great ex-citement over this incident and the irascible Jackson was very much distressed be cause he was not permitted to chastise his cowardly assailant. Randolph, who was a highstrung southern gentleman, went to Ohio and lived for many years in the little town of Washington in absolute ob-scurity, though known to the people of the place as the man who pulled Andrew Jackson's nose.

It is not at all likely that President Cleveland is afraid to trust his nasal appendage to the people of Virginia at this time. Hon, Martin V. Calvin has formally announced his candidacy for the commissionership of agriculture of the state. He has the full and enthusiastic support of the Richmond delegation to the nominating co

Mr. Calvin is peculiarly fitted for the of-fice which he seeks. He has made it a study from all the standpoints. He is a statis-tician, he knows the methods of securing and compiling figures, he knows how to successfully and attractively present facts, and, in making of the agricultural depart-ment a bureau of information of Georgia ment a bureau of information of Georgia farms and fields, would be eminently successful. He is a practical farmer himself, and knows how to lay before farmers information that would be of value to them. He has been in the state the principal champion of the agricultural department, and what efficiency that department now possesses, is due, in great part to him. Mr. Calvin, too, is a man of learning and ability. He would make an excelled commissioner of agriculture.

"Let Us Be One."

John Henderson Garnsey in The Pittsburg The war is indeed over. We in the north have a perverted idea that the hot-blooded men and women of the south are flaunting the bloody shirt and uttering the "rebel yell" constantly, and are only waiting for a chance to show that the stars and bars are better than the stars and stripes. It is a mistake. The war is over A for it. are better than the stars and stripes. It is a mistake. The war is over. A few incidents which have happened to 'me in Atlanta—in the heart of Georgia—the past week show that I am not mistaken when I say it. At a reception given by the South Carolina Club, when the paimetto flag hung over the doorways, a young northener grew enthusiastic and exclaimed: "I'm an unreconstructed southron tonight! Here's to the south!" The young southerners put their glasses down, and one, a Davis's cabinet, said: "Sir, we canno drink a toast with such sentiments as that.

I will give you instead, "The United States forever! Under one flag, and that flag the stars and stripes!" This toast was drank standing and amid cheers. In the city of Atlanta the stars and stripes were literall displayed, and the bands that playe "Yankee Doodle" were as loudly cheere as were those that gave "Dixie," though it cannot be denied that, musically speak ing, the latter is the most spirited. It seems to me that the bloody shirt is a something which, happily, is growing and more tattered every day, and which will ultimately resolve itself into dust and be borne away on the wings of a patriotic cyclone. I have no doubt, should occasion arise for us to fly to arms to protect our country, that no people would march out inder stars and stripes with more alacrity than the southrons, and that no bloo would flow more freely than theirs in de-fense of the union. Indeed, a prominent outherner, a man bearing a name know to all lovers of literature in this land, said "Should there be any western troubles such as were hinted at from Colorado at time of the silver excitement, you would find no readier response to the calls of the government than would come from Georgia," And, in speaking of the Coxey troubles, a South Carolinian said to me: would now be disbanded." therefore, that the proper thing for us is the north to do is to stretch out our hand across the line and grasp the one which s ready for us to grasp; to make a grand bondre of the bloody shirt, and then wipe Mason and Dixon's line from the map of our consciences. The south is a part of us. Let us be a part of it.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

The Voter in Meriwether.

Editor Constitution-If Mr. Atkinson or his friends can get any comfort from the the Evans men are more than satisfied Notwithstanding this (Meriwether) is the boyhood home of W. Y. Atkinson, if General Evans or his friends had made any kind of a fight in Saturday's primary the gentleman from Coweta would have been sadly left. Now listen: Meriwether has a voting population of between 3,300 and 3,500. At the consolidation of the vote today Mr. Atkinsons managers could only 335 votes cast for his delegates. Evans had no delegates in the field. Now where were the other 3,000 voters? Three districts, namely, Harris City, Lone Oak and the first district did not open the polls at all. There was virtually no election in three other districts, only five votes being polled in each. There were the seventh, eleventh and Midway dis-tricts. This looks very much like "the men who control" were about the only ones voting for him in these precincts.

To be candid, Mr. Editor, if any kind of an Evans demonstration had been made the county would have overwhelmingly endorsed the grand and patriotic old warendorsed the grand and patriotic old war rior. If the question of Evans or Atkin son had been the issue in Saturday's primary you would have seen a very ent result. The chairman of our cratic executive committee is Mr. Atkin son's brother, T. A. Atkinson, solicitor general of this, the Coweta circuit. Well, the executive committee decided, of course in the way above indicated, namely, to becloud and bemuddle the gubernatorial issue by running about a dozen or more delegates in the county at large. The reason this plan is so reprehensible is because people lose sight of the main issue and vote for the delegates themselves. It is very hard for one neighbor to vote against another, no matter who is running for office. For these and other reasons the Evans men decided to "hands off."

There were some very grave irregularities occurring in Saturday's primary, I am told, upon the authoity of two responsible gen-tlemen. One of these was voting by proxy. The mayor of Greeneville and a former legislator. I am informed, sent their tickets across the public square to the courthous by a notary public, the latter delivering said tickets to the managers, which were duly counted and deposited in the ballot box. Is this legal? Is it fair? If this be permissible, how easy, if the carrier was so inclined, to deposit a ticket other than the one selected by the voter.

But the Evans men are not complaining. In fact, they are jubilant. The woebegone rognathous-jawed look that the Atkinson fellows had today on counting their very small vote is but a precursor of the over-whelming defeat the pure, the grand, the noble old warrior and statesman will give them 'ere many moons shall wax and

SPEAKER CRISP Says He Cannot Enter the Senatorial

Race. From The Rome, Ga., Tribune It will be remembered that a short time ago a letter was sent to Speaker Crisp, signed by a number of citizens of Rome. asking him to become a candidate for the senate. A reply has been received from Mr. Crisp, and he states that just now he cannot see his way clear to enter the race. Its tone, however, does not shut him off from future consideration. The letter will be read with interest: "Washington, D. "Should I become a candidate for the sen ate, I would want to make a canvass of the state and invite some expression as to the choice of the people for that position. The duties of the office of speaker are very engrossing, and while congress is in session I cannot leave my post. We must not ad-journ until we have redeemed, or exhausted every effort to redeem, the pledges made at the time of our election. We may be letained here a great while, possibly unti after the state election. In that event, I would have no opportunity to give any attention whatever to my candidacy, and so would labor under a great disadvantage.

"That I should like to go to the senate, I frankly admit. I said as much to the governor when forced from a sense of duty. ernor when forced, from a sense of duty to the party here, to decline the appoint-ment so generously tendered me by him; but, in view of the conditions herein men-

The Gold Standard.

The Gold Standard.

From The Raleigh News-Observer-Chronicle When England was engaged in the wars against Napoleon she had no specie, her currency being exclusively bank notes. When peace was restored and the matter of a return to specie payments came to be considered, it was thought best to resume on a gold basis. Probably that was because gold was relatively cheaper than silver at that time. In 1812 and 1813 silver was cheap, 16¼ to 1, but then gold fell and silver rose, and in 1817 the commercial ratio was a little more than 15 to 1. After England resumed on gold in 1819, gold began to appreciate again and the ratio in 1817 was nearly 18 to 1. It never rose so high after that until silver was depreciated in 1873. The movement against silver twenty years ago seems to have been with the settled purpose of aggrandizing the holders of credits. There was nothing in the relations of the two metals to induce such a movement as a matter of commercial necessity. The result has been to give an additional value to credits and to increase the value of money. But it has been attended with disastrous consequences of another nature.

JOHNSON AND BALD WERE ENTERED.

And one of the most successful meets ever held in Atlanta had begun in the presence of 1,200 spectators.

Around the half-mile track the novices spun, keeping strictly bunched until the last turn, when N. C. Johnson, E. H. Webb and E. E. Shatterfield went to the front in quick time. Down the home stretch they swept in the order named and finished in tne same way. Webb spurted desperately to overtake Johnson, out the latter rode in a winner in 2:43%. of the famous Zimmerman, late amateur. In this connection the features of the lay may be enumerated in short. In the half-mile opening race the riding of that promising youngster, Cleveland Bolles, was a revelation to the older men that were entered. He fairly walked away from R. V. Connerat, of Savannah, and finished a close second to George Fitzsimmons, of North Carolina.

Kendall Spear took the honors of the boys mile race with hands down, and the fourth race was the one in which E. C. Bald. & coming amateur, outspurted John S. Johnson and won a race in the last ten feet. Cleveland Bolles again distinguished himself in the fifth race, riding a good second. In the sixth race the magnificent riding of Johnson, of Syracuse, N. Y., was the great feature. In the seventh event Bolles again finished a fine second to George Fitzsimmons's first.

Then came the riding of the day by J. S. Johnson, who went against time to break the Georgia track record. He made the half mile in 1:05, beating the former record by seven seconds, Taylor, of Boston, Mass.,

Referee Joe Johnson distinguished himself by the splendid management of the meet and the wonderful way in which he handled the crowd, despite the fact that there was not a single policeman stationed on the grounds—an oversight which caused

By this time the first half had been made in 1:30. The first part of the second half was made in little better time, Johnson refusing to take his turn in the pacing, acting in a thoroughly sulky manner, although Bald and Taylor were perfectly willing to take it share about. In the home stretch Johnson went to the front and for a time all three rode neck and neck. Gradually the pace increased until it was a 2:20 gait. Johnson still maintained a little the best of the lead, but when within ten or twenty feet of the tape Bald made a magnificent spurt and fairly lifted himself ahead, winning by three inches. Time, 2:30%.

On account of the limit Referee Johnson stated that he would call the race off, unless the men would run if over. This they did not care to do, and it was called "no go." did not care to do, and it was called "no fore they realized it he had alipped by them and had a lead of nearly thirty yards. With a quarter of a mile to go, Johnson and Bald began a tremendous spurt. Gradually they gained on Taylor, until Johnson, by work almost incomprehensible, passed Taylor and won by three feet, Taylor second and Bald a fine third. Time, 5:53%.

Johnson's Great Race.

Johnson showed his great power in the sixth race, the two-mile open, Class B, with Taylor and Bald as the other entries.

Fitzsimmons added another splendid victory to his list by his splendid work in the seventh event—the five-mile handicap—while Cleveland Bolles was a close third, Connerat being second.

The following named riders were those entered:

miles in 8:49%, four miles in 12:13%, and the five miles in 15:25%. Johnson Breaks the Georgia Record.

The really great riding of the day was that of Johnson against time, Taylor pac-ing for him. The pace was carried to the first quarter, when Taylor fell out and Johnson showed a splendid burst of speed the rest of the way, apparently increasing the pace at every move. The time was 1:05, which lowers the track record of Georgia seven seconds. Johnson made a flying start. Prince Against the Horse

The last event of the day was the race of Jack Prince against a trotting horse. Prince won easily, without a show of the great speed he is said to possess.

Dr. Roland B. Hall, of Macon, a most earnest and active supporter of General Evans, is in the city in attendance on the grand commandery of the Knights Templars.

Dr. Hall has recently spent much time in the counties of Laurens, Dooly, Pulaski, Twiggs and Wilcox and brings favorable reports of General Evans's standing in those counties. His friends are actively at work and say he will most certainly carry all of these unless it is Wilcox.

Mr. Atkinson lost several votes by his recent speech at Vienna. The enthusiasm for the Coweta statesman which has been claimed by his friends is not as great as is claimed by his whoopers.

The Fifth Machine Gun Platoon Hop Occurs Tomorrow Evening.

Perhaps the most delightful social event of the week will occur at Ponce de Leon springs tomorrow evening.

It will be the military hop given by the members of the Fifth Machine Gun Platoon of this city.

This splendid new organization, which has recently entered the service of the state, is composed of many of the brightest and best young men of Atlanta. It is under the command of Lieutenant Charles H. Plyer, an able and accomplished officer, and one of the most prominent young members of the legal profession.

ATLANTA LOST AGAIN

The Macon Team Take the First of the Series from the Men Sullivan

IS SEEKING THE . PENNANT WITH.

Joanes Hit the Ball for Four Bags When the Bases Were Full and Four Men Crossed the Paiste.

Macon, Ga., May 9.—(Special.)—Macon won the game today from Atlanta in the seventh inning.

It was by a lucky home hit by Joanes, and he received a snower of silver as his reward. The story of the seventh inning is interesting. At the beginning of the seventh the score stood 3 to 2 in favor of Macon. Moorelock knocked to second and was thrown out at first; Mayer hit to shortstop and made first on Ryan's error. Gibbs flew out to center field, McFarland filt 20 second base and Geiss fumbled it and Mc Farland reached second Mayer going to third. Hoover got base on balls. All the bases were now full, with two men out.

Joanes went to the bat and after knocking four successive long fouls over the right field fence, got a square lick at the ball and sent it far over the right field fence, making the cleanest home run ever seen on the Macon diamond. He brought in Mayer, McFarland and Hoover and him self, thus making four runs.

Wolf then flew out to left field.

The score now stood 7 to 2 in favor of Atlanta came to the bat in the seventh inning when Geiss hit to second and on an error of Pitz got safe. Burke hit to shortstop and made first on a bad throw from shortstop; Hollohan knocked the ball just in front of the nome plate and was thrown out at first; Gilman hit a long fly to left, which was caught, Geiss scoring. Boland hit to left field and on Mayer's error made second base, Burke scoring. Ryan hit safe to second, Boland scoring. Chard, who had been substituted for Boyle, hit to short, forcing Ryan out at second. The grand stand, which had become jubi-lant when Joanes knocked his home run, began to grow nervous again when Atlanta hauled up the three guns in the seventh, and the game still seemed to be un-certain, but no more runs were made after the seventh. The grand stand went wild when Joanes sent the ball over the fence, and quarters and half dollars were thrown to him until he had collected $10.50.

The prettiest play of the game was made at the commercement of the first Inling. McFarland went to bat for Macon. He knocked a long fly towards center field, which every one thought was a sure home run, as it seemed to be out of the reach of everybody. Gilman, who was playing left, made a long and rapid run toward the ball, and throwing up his left hand, pulled the sphere down, to the great surprise of the players and spectators. It was, perhaps, the most beautiful and unexpected catch ever made in Macon. He was loudly ap-plauded for his fine work. Conover pitched a good game and Boland caught well. Ma-

A NEW HOTEL.-Mr. J. C. S. Timber lake, known throughout the state of Geor-gia as a first-class hotel man, has leased the New Park hotel at Gainesville, Ga., and will, on June 15th, open it for the re-ception of guests. This hotel will be fin-ished by that date. It is a magnificent structure, complete in all its departments. structure, complete in all its departments. Its sanitary arrangements are perfect. This is a splendid place for Atlanta people to spend the hot months. Gainesville is known as a delightful place in summer time, and the New Park hotel, with all its conveniences, will be a splendid place for you. Mr. Timberlake is known far and wide as a genial, affaire man, and, no doubt, his place will be crowded a few days after opening. He has secured the Sanford girls orchestra for the season. Many Atlantians will recognize this orchestra, as they spent the winter at the Aragon hotel in this city. Mr. Timberlake says he is in this city. Mr. Timberlake says he is going to cut the prices for accomm at the lowest possible rates. They must be in keeping with the times.

JONESBORO'S TREASURER .- Mr. J. S McCown, well known in Atlanta as being connected with the claim department of the Central railroad, has been elected city treaurer of Jonesboro. Mr. McCown is one of the most popular young men in Jones boro and his election was entirely without his knowledge. He does business in At-lanta, coming up every morning to his Central railroad duties and going back in the afternoon. At the council meeting Tuesday night his name was presented by his friends and he was not apprised of his election until yesterday.

MR. PAT A. O'CONNOR desires it to be understood that he is not the "Mr. O'Con-nor" connected with the Fred Cooper affair as explained to Judge Westmoreland.

AN ATLANTA BOY HONORED.—When anything good is being handed around Atlanta generally gets its share, and that her young men propose to follow her example has recently been illustrated. The Jefferson debaters' medal of the University of Virginia has long been considered the highest honor in the gift of that famous institution, and its attainment is the ambi-tion of all the students who seek forensic honors. This medal has just been won honors. This medal has just been won by Mr. Hugh M. Dorsey, the eldest son of Judge R. T. Dorsey, of the Atlanta bar. Young Dorsey is a law student of the Uni-versity of Virginia, and his recent victory adds another to the list of honors won by him, both in his course at the University of Georgia and at the famous college of the Old Dominion.

DEATH OF MRS. BAKER .- Mrs. H. J. Baker, nee Miss Birdie Lichtenwalter, died at her residence, No. 527 Whitehall street, yesterday afternoon. Her funeral will take place from Park Street Methodist church, west End, at 3 o'clock p. m. today.

A DISTINGUISHED VISITOR.—Good Templars, members of the Woman's Chris-tian Temperance Union and of the Atlanta Prohibition Club, togetner with all friends of the temperance cause, will meet at Good Templars hall tonight at 8 o'clock to meet the grand vice templar of the grand lodge of Illnois. The occasion will be an informal reception to that distinguished officer. The hall is at 42½ North Broad street.

ADJUDGED INSANE.-Charles Lee, well-known colored man, was carried be-fore the ordinary yesterday on a writ of lunacy and was adjudged insane. He was sent to the Fulton county jail to await transportation to the insane asylum. Lee was well known in the city as one of the best shoemakers, and up to a few months ago was seen at his place of business at all times. Two months or more he was seized with a heart trouble and was taken to the Grady hospital. The illness was of a serious character and affected Lee's mind. He will be taken to Milledgeville in a few days.

ON THE HOT SANDS.-The Mystic Shriners will all be away from home tonight. but if any one of them is wanted he can be found in the Kiser building at the Atlanta oasis, where the Yaarab temple is camped. It would be well not to molest the Shriners, however, as they will be enjoying the incoming of several "newcomers." The red fez is growing in popularity every day in Atlanta and the life sands of the deserts are being trodden oftener and with more pleasure than ever before. WILL BE A DELIGHTFUL EVENT.— The Atlanta Artillery will picnic Tuesday of next week at Fearl Springs on the At-lanta and West Point road. The grounds at Pearl Springs are among the prettiest and most delightful in the south and are adapted to the pleasure of the picnickers more than any other place that could have been chosen. The Third Artillery band will be along with the party and the day will be one of the most delightful the company

This Brilliant Musical Event Will Occur Tonight.

In the concert hall of the Young Men's Christian Association tonight at 8 o'clock the carnival of song, which has been in prospect for several weeks, will become a beautiful reality.

To the lover of music it will be a rare treat, and to those whose talent is cultivated to the point of artistic criticism it will be an opportunity the like of which has rarely been presented.

In the musical circles of Atlanta is found a variety of talent, embracing not only the imitative but the creative genius for producing melody on every kind of instrument. There is no city in the south, and perhaps few in the country, that can rival Atlanta in this regard, and she is rapidly becoming one of the avowed musical centers of the union.

Professor A. N. Burbark has been in charge of the preparations for tonight's carnival and he has made it one of the best efforts of his life. The carnival is given under the auspices of the Atlanta Choral Union and half of the proceeds will go to the Young Men's Christian Association.

The annual meeting of the Red Men of The annual meeting of the Red Men of Georgia is now a thing of the past.

The campfires have gone out and the braves, led by their chiefs, are now on the way to their own tribal wigwams.

The meeting has been one of the most important in the history of the organization in Georgia and when the adjournment came more good work had been accomplished than has ever been accomplished before in any one meeting.

more good work had been accomplished than has ever been accomplished before in any one meeting.

But the most important feature of the great work was the establishment of the orphans' home for the Red Men of the state.

The opening of such an institution has been on foot for a year or two past. The members of the order saw no immediate prospects of a consummation of their plans, however, until Mr. W. W. Austell recently made an offer of a site and agreed to assist the project otherwise.

That liberal-hearted Red Man tendered to the state body five acres of land, together with the sum of $2,500 and 10,000 brick, as the nucleus of a building fund.

The property is located almost in the heart of Austell and is surrounded by a most picturesque stretch of territory. When the delegates to the present convention held their barbecue Tuesday at Lithia Springs they visited the site.

When the committee to which the matter had been referred reported yesterday favorably to the acceptance of Mr. Austell's offer the report was adopted readily and with great enthusiasm.

Steps will be immediately taken to raise the requisite amount of money with which to build the home.

NEW YORK, May 9.—There were further indications of liquidation in the Industrials at the start this morning. American Sugar was particularly weak, the stock in the first transactions failing off about a point. This led to selling in other parts of the Industrial group and finally it becaute differenced Concret Electric received some atgeneral. General Electric received some attention from the room traders and on a revival of an old story about the inroads the Westinghouse outfit was making in the business territory of the former, the price fell 1½ to 35½. The recent Boston selling was attributed to the Ames estate, and this probably had more influence with timid holders than the story first referred to. Whisky was also heavy, one firm selling 10,000 shares, the transactions being cred-lted to a bear clique. The stock declined Lead 14 and Sugar 1%. In the early 114. Lead 114 and Sugar 178. In the early trading Louisville and Nashville dropped % on foreign selling, but other railway stocks were steady. Subsequently Lake Shore moved up % and Louisville and Nashville raillied 15. In the last hour of business the Grangers and other railway stocks developed weakness on reports of severate cutting at the west, and fears of rate cutting at the west, and fears of further large gold exports late in the week. St. Paul declined %, Rock Island %, North-west 1 and Burlington and Quincy 1. The last named was also affected by rumors out a probable reduction in the dividend rate to 4 per cent. At the close the market was rather weak in teme with prices anywhere from 1/2 to 11/2 per cent below yes-terday's finals. Foreign and Domestic News Co.

By Private Wire to J. C. Knox, Manager. NEW YORK, May 9.—The stock market was dull and feverish in closing dealings, particularly for the railroad list, but the Industrials, with the exception of the Whisky trust, resisted the attacks of the bears.

A prominent room trader, who was evidently acting for Mr. Cammack, attacked Burlly acting for Mr. Cammack, attacked Burlington and Quincy, but did not sell much stock. The basis of attack was a revival of the rumor that the dividend rate is to be reduced, whereas the directors do not meet until next week for its consideration. Little impression was made on St. Paul and at decline commission houses were the principal buyers. A large line of shorts was covered in Rock Island, which was, however, with pool support. The manipulation of Sugar gave strong evidence of accumulation of stock by controlling interests, Chicago Gas was picked up all day by strong parties and General Electric scored a good rally in the final half hour on the completion of liquidation for Boston account.

Financial Gossip.

Foreign and Domestic News Company, by private wire to J. C. Knox, manager—We understand the extent of the interests shown in New England, and especially in Boston, as to the prospects of the New England was very encouraging to the reorganization committee. Boston merchants and shippers are very well disposed textused. and shippers are very well disposed to the New England road, and when they are assured of a good management will turn over as much business to it as the road can conveniently handle.

The Cammack brokers bought Burlington and Quincy, and even St. Paul was in prisker request on a denial of the sensational rumors affecting the credit of the leading grain houses in Chicago.

Ladenburg, Thalmon & Co. have decided to ship $500,000, and probably $750,000, in gold today. There was $1,900,000 gold ordered at the subtreasury yesterday morning.

Stocks opened irregular, with Sugar and Louisville and Nashville the weak feature, and Distilling and Cattle Feeding and the Grangers the strong ones.

The weakness of Sugar was simply a reflection of the marketing Tuesday of a block of stock by the pool and the taking of profits by Washington politicians.

New York Daily Indicator-The new bonds and stock of the Southern Railroad Com-pany, the successor to the Richmond Ter-minal Company, are nearly ready for distribution. It is believed that Mr. Morgan will make the application to list the same on the London exchange as soon as the new securities reach the other side.

Atwood Violett & Co's. Cotton Letter. By Private Wire to J. C. Knox, Manager. NEW YORK, May 9.—Our cable today was a very satisfactory one and the course of the Liverpool market confirmed their impressions. They informed us that there were signs of spinners becoming uneasy and they expected some free buying soon, also an increase of spinners taking spot sales at Liverpool yesterday and today were 10,000 bales, against 8,000 recently. Futures there closed 1-64d better and very steady. The improvement here showed a gain at one time of 6 points. The market is awaiting the bureau report of tomorrow, which will show figures that are only given to indicate what the bureau's correspondents believe to be their intention to plant. In other words their report of May 10th last year showed that $5.2 of the proposed planting had already been put in on May 1st, against 78.3 in 1892, 77.5 in 1890, Therefore, while the proportion planted last May was much larger than for several Atwood Violett & Co's, Cotton Letter. ready been put in on May 1st, against 78.3 in 1892, 77.5 in 1891, 75 in 1890 and 87 in 1899. Therefore, while the proportion planted last May was much larger than for several years the increase in the crop this year over the crop of last year is not, perhaps, as large as the more forward planting season would have indicated. Our reports and those of others would indicate about 82 per cent this year planted to May 1st. We shall give due notice tomorrow of the bureau figures. The percentage of the various states last year of the crop planted on May 1st was: Virginia 71, North Carolina 85, South Carolina 90, Georgia 82, Florida 92, Alabama 93, Mississippi 85, Louisiana 87, Texas 81, Arkansas 71, Tennessee 76. Port movement today 3,694, against 2,600 last year and for the week indicates not exceeding 24,000@25,000, against 28,000 last year. The following is the range of cotton latures in New York today:

Hubbard, Price & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

NEW YORK, May 9.—Summary Hubbard, Price & Co.'s cotton letter: Our foreign advices this morning were of a more favorable tenor than had been anticipated by the trade, and it is difficult to assign any especial reason for the improvement abroad except the feeling which pervades all circles of the English trade; that the improvement in the business of that country, as shown by railroad traffic returns and the exports of goods justifies the investment in cotton on the basis of present prices. The Liverpool market is expected to be closed at noon on Friday until Tuesday on account of the Whitsunside holidays. Our market opened steady at last evening's prices, advanced some 7 points, a portion of which was lost, but is now steady at 465 points improvement over last evening. A slight change can be noted in the temper of the market, but many of those who have been successful in anticipating the present decline insist that the market cannot advance. A quiet afternoon was brought to a close with a better tone, which caused the market to close steady at about 5 points advance from yesterday and dissipated the very bearish tendency which has been noticeable in the market for the past three weeks. Hubbard, Price & Co.'s Cotton Letter. for the past three weeks.

The Sun's Cotton Review.

The Sun's Cotton Review.

NEW YORK, May 9.—Cotton advanced 4 to 6 points, closing steady; sales 79,600 bales. Liverpool advanced 1 to 1½ points, closing very steady; spot sales 10,000 bales at unchanged prices, with a fair demand. In Manchester, yarns were dull; cloths quiet. Government crop reports state that drought exists in many parts of North Carolina; that drought continues on the coast of South Carolina; that rain is needed in Louisiana and greatly needed in Georgia; Texas outlook favorable. The Louisiana state report reports good stands everywhere. New Orleans advanced 6 to 8 points. Spot cotton here was quiet and unchanged; sales 200 for spinning; deliveries 1,200 bales. Southern markets quiet and generally unchanged. Mobile declined 1-16c; New Orleans, Satunnah and Memphis were easy. New Orleans sold 2,500, St. Louis 789 and Memphis 350 bales. New Orleans receipts tomorrow estimated at 500 to 700 against 629 bales on the same day last week and 1,487 bales last year. Receipts at the ports today 3,694 bales against 3,462 bales this fair this week 16,527 against 21,027 bales thus fair this week 16,527 against 21,027 bales thus fair last week and 24,600 last year. Thus fair this week 16,527 against 21,027 bales thus fair last week and 24,600 last year. Thus fair this week 16,527 against 21,027 bales thus fair last week. The cheapness of the price makes bears cautious, even if as yet it has not led to any large investment buying.

Texas Crop Movement.

NEW ORLEANS, May 9.—A statement of the Texas cotton crop movement has just been issued by the New Orleans cotton exchange. The statement shows the movement for the month of April to have been 68,645 bales, against 61,134 bales last year, and the total movement for eight months, from September to April inclusive, 1,948,697 bales, against 2,029,330 bales last year. The Texas movement after April 30th last year was 78,593 bales, and the total commercial crop of today for all of last year 2,108,263 bales.

Riordan & Co's. Cotton Letter. Riordan & Co's. Cotton Letter.

NEW YORK, May 9.—(Special.)—The market showed more steadiness today than for several days past, and some of the bulls are hoping that the long-expected reaction is at hand. August opened at 7.07 and though the tone at no time could be described as strong, the general tendency was towards improvement. August sold as high as 7.10. The close was steady with 7.08 bid for August. The report of the agricultural bureau tomorrow is hardly expected to affect prices much. Rain seems to be badly needed in many parts of the south, and if Liverpool should advance sharply the shorts here might be frightened into covering and a lively time would result, but thas are only possibilities, and a good rise would probably bring out plenty of sellers. Opinions are about evenly divided here new whether or not August will sell at 7.50 again before it sells at 6.50.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

CHICAGO, May 9.—In opposition to news of a decidedly bearish character, the market for wheat showed wonderful strength today. July wheat sold between 59/65% c and 58½ c, closing at 55% 65% c, a net gain of ½ c for the day. The cash wheat market was quiet. There was some demand from millers, but none from exporters. Red winter wheat was quotably ½ c lower.

Corn received some strength from wheat, some from oats and presented some on its own merits. By far the greater portion was on its own individual standing. July closed ¾6½ c over yesterday at 39% 39½ c. after fluctuating between 39½ 39½ and 39½ c. There was a good demand for cash corn and prices were up ½6% of 1 cent.

Oats—Shorts in this market, particularly those who have open trades in May and June, received another rude wakening today, when they found the market practically bare of offerings. The strength shown by the deliverers mentioned was powerful enough to carry July upward with them. Before the close prices became a little easier, but the close showed a gain over yesterday of ½ for all speculative options. Cash oats were in good demand and prices were ½ 6½ c higher.

Provisions were weak, dull and inactive. A weak hog market gave a bad start to product and they showed little, if any, power of recovery throughout the session. Some bidding for lard near the close gave a tinge of firmness to the market at the close, but otherwise there was no feature to the trade. July pork closed 12½ c lower, July lard 5c lower and July ribs 5c lower.

Lamson Bros. & Co.'s Grain Letter. Lamson Bros. & Co.'s Grain Letter. CHICAGO, May 9.—Notwithstanding the heavy selling today by Pardridge and other parties the market has held very firm and opening prices proved to be the lowest of the day. The demand seemed general. Shorts evidently oversold themselves yesterday and were the best Juyers most of the session. News was about evenly divided. California advices were discouraging, as was also a report from the northwest that seeding was very much behind and likely to be further retarded by wet weather, which is predicted for that region for the next few days. The bears were favored with good crop reports from different winter wheat sections, continued heavy cables, with good crop reports from different winter wheat sections, continued heavy cables, large northwest receipts and a very poor statement from Bradstreet's, making a decrease of only 21,000 bushels in the world's visible supply of wheat. There was a decrease east and west of the Rockies of '2.100,000 bushels, but which was offset by an increase afloat of 2,600,000 bushels. The estimates on the government reports, due tomorrow afternoon, are from $7.1 to $7.3, against $6.7 last month. There has been some good buying by strong parties the against 86.7 last month. There has been some good buying by strong parties the past day or two, based particularly on the belief that the government report may be below the last one. Should that prove true we are likely to have an active market very soon which will be particularly interesting to the bears.

Corn and oats have been in good demand all the session, particularly from the shorts. Receipts are slightly under the estimate and the sample market for oats was from 1/20 lc higher. May touched 36 and June 35.

DR. AND MRS. JONES ENTERTAIN.

A Delightful High Tes at Their Home, Preparations for the Colonial Ball and Notes About That Affair.

The high tea given by Dr. and Mrs. Chandler Jones at their elegant residence on Peachtree last evening between the hours of 8 and 11 was a most brilliant and hours of 8 and 11 was a most brilliant and delightful affair.

The wide verandas were inclosed and arranged with dainty tables decked with pink oses and pink tapers. Many tall palms, the pots covered with pink crepe paper, lent an oriental grace to the scene, while from the ceiling deepeded a number.

while from the ceiling depended a number of gayly colored Japanese lanterns. Entering the elegant drawing room the susion was, indeed, charming. The bowls and vases were filled with pink carnations and the mantel was arranged with malden hair fern. The dining room was decked with paims, ferns and scarlet geraniums, and the coquettish little punchroom was a-flutter with pink ribbons and roses and radiant with the light of lamps and candles from rose-colored tapers. Delicious refreshments were daintily served at the small rables.

Mrs. Jones received her guests in an elegant toilet of black velvet, trimmed with round point, in whose laces were caught gorgeous diamonds. Miss Jones were a Frenchy and becoming toilet of white lace over yellow silk.

The ladies who assisted in receiving, with a description of their costumes, were as Mrs. W. D. Grant, elegant black silk, trimmed with dull jet, superb diamonds.

HELP FOR THE WEAK.

The Best and Cheapest Building-Up

At this season of the year the health is less buoyant than in winter, all need strengthening to enable them to stand the change of season incident to spring and summer. For this purpose there is nothing better in the whole range of materia medica that will build up the system fazier, and impart health and strength to the weak and debilitated as rapidly as Beef, Wine and Iron. Nearly all medical authorities recommend this preparation to convalescents and to those whose shattered system need building up. It will also so strengthen that the system will be fortified against contracting disease.

This preparation is made from fresh Beef, Citrate of Iron and pure Sherry Wine. It contains is a pleasant form the pleasant and nutritious tonic and stimulating properties of its ingredients. Prompt results will follow its use in cases of weakness. As a autritive building-up tonic it would be indicated in the treatment of impaired nutrition, impoverishment of impaired nutrition, impoverishment of blood and all forms of general debility. THE CAKE WALK. It Will Take Place Tonight at the Grand. A large house will doubtless be on hand tonight to see Tom Arnold's great cake walk at the Grand. lanta. Cake walks have been given in al-most all the large cities of the north and most all the large cities of the north and east with tremendous success. Last Wednesday night Chattanooga enjoyed its first cake walk and it was thoroughly enjoyed and patronized by the best element of her theater-goers.

Besides the walkers who are chosen from local celebrities, a company of specialty people will introduce dances, singing, banjo picking and numerous entertaining and nleasing specialties. There will be nothing in the performance to offend the most fastidious, and merely a true licture of piantation life before the war.

For the cake walk the following gentlemen will act as judges awarding the handsome prizes.

THE BAR WAS SILENT

of Davis,

THE WELL-KNOWN COLORED LAWYER.

But When the Matter Was Properly Pre sented Court Adjourned at 2 O'clock. No Committees Appointed.

A motion to adjourn the superior court out of respect for J. Robert Davis, a member of the bar, who died Sunday, created something of a sensation at a meeting of the Atlanta Bar Association held yesterday morning. Davis was a negro and by that same token a very lively little row followed the introduction of the motion at the association meeting yesterday morning. Some time ago Davis was admitted to practice in the superior court and became a full fledged practitioner in the courts of a full fledged practitioner in the courts of Fuiton county. His admission to the bar made him, without further ceremony, a member of the bar association. He was industrious and soon built up a profitable business among the people of his own race, whose penchant for getting into the low opens is something remarkable. There are but a few negro lawyers practicing before but a few negro lawyers practicing before the courts of Fulton county, but among that number Davis was a bright and shinning light.

Sunday he died at the Grady hospital of pneumonia, after a short illness. His tuneral took place yesterday afternoon at 30 clock from the First Congregational church. Eisnop H. M. Turner omclated and all the more prominent negroes in the city were in attendance.

It is a time-nonored custom with the bar association in the event of the death of one of its members to request the presiding judge to adjourn court on the day of the funeral of the deceased as a token of respect to his memory. It was in accordance with this custom that a certain member of the association at the meeting held yesterday morning made the motion customary in such cases.

It was received at first in silence. There was an awkward pause, while a good many of the lawyers twitched nervously in their seats. The motion was unexpected and it was not received with any great amount of enthusiasm.

At was one of the members of the was not received with any great amount of enthusiasm.

At issue of the members of the association arose and stated that he did not think a request for adjournment of the court for the day should be made considering the created condition of the docket. This met with disapproval from some of the lawyers and a general discussion of the patter. It was a difficult subject to handle and those who argued against the motion found themselves somewhat embarrassed. Davis was an actual member of the association and this was a stubborn fact to get around.

Finally a compromise was decided upon and it was agreed to request the adjournment of court for the day at 2 o'clock, one hour before the time set for the funeral of Davis. This was die and the request was granted by Judge Lumpkin.

Court adjourned at the specified time, but no delegation was sent from the association to attend the dead lawyer's funeral.

The action of the bar association leaked out and a great deal of comment was excited thereby. A reporter for The Constitution called upon several prominent members of the association last night. They united is the statement that no disrespect was intended for Davis and that, considering the mass of business before the courts, that full respect had been shown him by the court taking an adjournment before the hour for his funeral arrived.

Protecting Cottolene.

Protecting Cottolene.

Prom The Macon Telegraph.

The N. K. Fairbank Company, of Chicago, have lastely brought suit in the United States court against W. L. Henry, of this city, for $5,000, for infringement of their trade mark, "Cottolene." The N. K. Fairbank Company sets forth that they originated, prepared and put upon the market a new food product consisting of refined cotton seed oil and a small proportion of beef suet, making a pale yellow material of the consistency and substance of lard, almost without odor and intended to take the place of lard in cooking.

In order to indicate the source and genuineness of their new food product, they originated, coined and use as a trade mark the word "Cottolene." The healthfulness and many other advantages of Cottolene over lard were so apparent that cottolene became at once very popular and is now largely sold all over the country.

The new food product and its name "Cottolene" have become widely known as the product of the N. K. Fairbank Company. The trade mark is described as a "trade mark for oleaginous food substances, etc.," "consisting of a head or neck of a steer or other bovine, partially enclosed by sprigs and branches of the cotton plant."

The N. K. Fairbank Company charges that W. L. Henry, of Macon, Ga., a dealer in fresh meats and food products generally, has been and is endeavoring unlawfully to avail himself of the benefits of the name In fresh meats and food products generally, has been and is endeavoring unlawfully to avail himself of the benefits of the name "Cottolene" and its popularity: that he has been and is selling a product similar in kind, but inferior in quality, under the name of "Cottolene," and to the loss and injury of its manufacturers, the N. K. Fairbank Company.

its manufacturers, the N. K. Fairbank Company.

The infringements upon the trade mark of "Cottolene" have become so frequent and so many dealers are selling an inferior article and claiming it to be cottolene that the N. K. Fairbank Company are determined to protect their customers and propose to sue every retail dealer who is thus imposing upon his customers and infringing upon the N. K. Fairbanks Company's trade mark.

SET FOR THIS AFTERNOON.

Judge Andy Calhoun Will Deal with the "Club" Fraternity. The negroes who were captured in their social enjoyment last Sunday afternoon and brought to the station house will be given a hearing before Judge Andy Calhoun today.

The trial is set for this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The trial is set for this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The negroes, who were liberated shortly after their arrest, claim that a great outrage was perpetrated on them by the police authorities, and assert that they had the right to drink in their clubrooms without being molested. Forty-six of these club negroes will pass in review before Judge Calhoun when the case is called. The charge against the manager is that of selling spirituous liquors without a license, and that against the camers is drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

CARNIVAL OF SONG

Given by the Leading Vocalists of the City. A Programme of Unusual Interest.

Tonight at the Young Men's Christian Association there will be given a genuine carnival of song. It is something entirely new in its line, nothing ever like it having been given in this city. The programme is complete and embraces all the prominent vocalists of Atlanta. There will be soio, quartet and chorus singing. The chorus singing will be unusuany interesting, it is very seldom that you can get very many prominent vocalists in a chorus, but in the carnival of song that is to be given this evening, an exception has been made and the stage will be fined with Atlanta's finest vocalists. Here is the programme:

Festival Te Deum, Dudiey Buck—Miss Julies. Carter, Mrs. Carrie C. White, Mr. W. S. Garneid, Mr. Ed H. Barnes and society. Baritone Soio, "Ask What Thou Wint," Dekoven—Mr. S. M. Burbank.

The tickets have been selling rapidly. They are on sale at the Young Men's Christian Association hall and cost only 50 cents, including reserved seats. All Young Men's Christian Association members are admitted free, but if they desire reserved seats, 25 cents will be charged.
Every person on the programme is an artist and the entertainment will be one of the highest class. Be sure and do not forget to come out tonight.

They Soothe-Never Irritate

They Soothe—Never Irritate.

Some people have a prejudice against plasters, because, as they think, they burn and blister. That is true of many, but not of Alleock's Porous Plasters. They never irritate the skin, but always have a soothing effect.

They are useful in case of any local pain and as a rule will bring immediate relief. If they do not, it is because the trouble has been allowed to become so serious that no external remedy will reach it, and the chances are that any treatment will fall. For stitches in the side, weakness or lameness of the back, stiffness of the joints Alleock's Porous Plasters have been proved again and again to be not only a relief, but a cure.

Bed Bugs. Look Out! They are now on the rampage. An ounce of good exterminator used now will be worth a hundred pounds used later on. Jacobs' Bed Bug Killer will destroy them root and branch. It is used by all the principal hotels, and is by far the best article of the kind ever invented. It never fails. UNITED WORKMEN.

They Convened in Biennial Session Yesterday Morning.

GREETED BY MAYOR JOHN B. GOODWIN.

The Session Taken Up with the Routine Work of the Convention.

The Ancient Order of United Workmen, one of the oldest and most distinguished organizations of this country, convened in Atlanta yesterday morning.

It was an impressive body of men, dig-nified, earnest, thoughtful and intelligent. The character of the organization is well known. It embodies the insurance idea and has a membership in the close neighborhood of half a million. It has enjoyed a wonder-ful career of growth and has attained to a

In the convention yesterday Georgia, North and South Carolina, Alabama, Florida and Mississippi were represented.

The convention assembles every two years and is attended by many of the leading and influential men of the country.

Morning Session.

The convention was called to order in the Kiser building yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, by Grand Master Workman J. A. Breazeale, of Anderson, S. C. There was a full attendance, the membership of the organization being well represented.

In behalf of the city Mayor John B. Goodwin extended a cordial welcome to the order. This was in his usual happy style.

der. This was in his usual happy style.

Mr. Burazale, in a very eloquent manner, responded to the address of welcome.

He referred to Atlanta's remarkable growth, which he ascribed, in a large measure, to her enterprising journalism, and paid a grateful tribute to the Cotton States ex-position. His remarks were roundly ap-plauded.

In behalf of the lodges of the city, Mr. John F. Barolay extended a very earnest and sincere welcome to the brotherhood.

Mr. N. S. Gewinner, of Macon, replied to the address of Mr. Barolay.

These preliminary exercises having been concluded, the convention entered upon its regular work. The report of the experience of the convention of the convention of the convention.

He thought the order needed a little stimulating, in spite of the fact that remarkable progress had been made during the year. He suggested the made during the year. He suggested the formation of other lodges and the establishment of a newspaper organ. After an interesting session the convention adjourned until 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

The afternoon session was devoted to routine work.

The business of the convention will be concluded this afternoon.

TO BE READVERTISED.

The Marietta and North Georgia Railroad is a Drug.

In view of the fact that an effort to sell the Marietta and North Georgia railroad last Tuesday afternoon falled to develop a bona fide purchaser, that property will have to be re-advertised and the conditions of the sale still further modified.

to be re-advertised and the conditions of the sale still further modified.

The upset price, as fixed by the court, was too high and the cash installment, as a pledge of good faith, was more than any one was willing to pay.

It was stipulated in the order of the court that no sale should be declared unless the bid for the road was in excess of a specified sum of money.

sum of money.

This was $750,000 for the Georgia end of the line and $700,000 for the Tennessee end.

In addition to this the purchaser was required to give a certified check for $150,000 as a cash consideration. Hence the property was not sold last ruesday afternoon.

Entered on the Record.

The report of the commissioners appointed by Judge Newman to conduct the sale of the property, was filed in open court yester-day.

the property, was filed in open court yester-day.

This is the way the report read:
"In the circuit court of the United States for the Northern district of Georgia. Central Trust Company, of New York, and Boston Safe Deposit and Trust Company. Yes Marietta and North Georgia Railway Company. In equity.

"To the Honorable Judge of Said Court—The undersigned commissioners, appointed by the court to sell the property of the Marietta and North Georgia Railroad Company, report to the court that on Tuesday, the 8th day of May, 1894, at 12 o'clock noon, they did expose for sale all the rights, interests, assets and property of the Marietta and North Georgia railroad, as provided under the decree of foreclosure and sale granted by this honorable court, at Marietta, in Cobb county, in the state of Georgia, and that the decree of foreclosure and sale granted by this honorable court, at Marietta, in Cobb county, in the state of Georgia, and that after due and legal exposure for sale and calling for bids, that there was no bid of any kind whatever made for the said property, and the commissioners were unable to make the sale thereof according to the terms of said decree. Respectfully submitted.

"R. J. LOWRY.

"J. B. GLOVEP,

"H. H. TAYLOR,
"Special Commissioners."

"Ordered that the above report be filed in open court this, the 9th day of May, 1894.

"This relieves the commissioners of further responsibility.

What Is the Next Step.

What Is the Next Step.

What is the Next Step.

The question which naturally arises, in view of the failure of the commissioners to sell the property, is—
What is the next step?
This will be to arrange for another sale, in the future, and to advertise the property to this end.

It is likely that an order of the court will be invoked asking for a still further modification and reduction of the terms of sale. The cash payment of $150,000 may also be reconsidered.

Real faith never grows weak by having to wait. Sufferers taking Hood's Sarsa-parilla for chronic complaints should be patient and the result will be all that can be asked.

Atlanta, Ga., May 9, 1894.—The firm of Marsh & Smith has, by mutual consent, dossolved. E. W. Marsh wishing to retire from business has sold his interest to Hugh T. Inman and John A. Smith, and the business in all of its branches will be continued by Inman, Smith & Co.

E. W. MARSH.

JNO. A. SMITH.

HUGH T. INMAN, Special.

From the above announcement it will be seen that I have sold out my interest in the old firm of Marsh & Smith to Inman, Smith & Co., my junior partners in business. In retiring from business I return my grateful thanks to my many friends who have manifested their partiality in the past by the liberal manner in which they have patronized the houses with which I have been associated in this city for over a quarter of a century. For the new firm I can with confidence recommend them to the trade as men of the highest integrity, who know only how to deal justly with every one, besides possessing the very highest business qualifications with all the capital that is necessary for conducting a business on a large scale. I trust, therefore, the new firm may retain the friends of the old house, besides adding largely to their list many news ones. E. W. MARSH.

Atlanta, Ga., May 9, 1894.—As successors to Marsh & Smith we hope to merit the same liberal patronage which has been given our predecessors. With ample facilities for doing business, we feel that we can offer the trade unsurpassed inducements.

His return to Georgia is for the purpose of canvassing the state in the interest of the people's party.

Osborn denies being a member of Coxey's industrial army as reported in some of the papers. His mission, he said, was an independent one and had no connection whatever with the Coxey movement."

pers had me as adjutant general of the Coxey army and riding in a carriage with the commander all decked out in a stylish gray suit. All that this lacks of being true are the facts themselves. I was never at any time a member of Coxey's army, neither did I ride with him in a carriage, and as for the stylish gray suit it is yet to become a part of my scant wardrobe. "I met Coxey, whom I knew well, at Frederick, Md., and was with him for two or three days. In fact I secured Brightwood park as a camping place when it reached Washington and afterwards planned the line of march through the streets of the city to the capitol grounds, but I preceded the army there several days. I would not be ashamed if I had identified myself with the movement, as Coxey's objects are patriotic and are sympathized with by three-fourths of the laboring classes. Coxey is not the crank the newspapers describe, nor is his army an aggregation of huma and not the crank the newspapers describe, nor is his army an aggregation of bums and tramps. Coxey is worth somewhere in the neighborhood of $400,000 and the expenses of his expedition are paid mainly out of his private means. His army consists largely of mechanics and other working classes and nearly all of them are connected with labor organizations and are in good standing.

"When the army neared Frederick, Md., "When the army neared Frederick, Md., the citizens there feared there would be a breach of the peace and a dozen deputies were sworn in to protect the city. These men, however, after remaining with the army one day, voluntarily threw up their jobs and refused to accept any pay. When the army marched out the citizens gave them an ovation and showed them every mark of respect.

mark of respect. "I believe Coxey's arrest in Washington was an outrage against the rights of Amer-ican citizens. I was present and saw the whole affair. The army was not marched on the capitol grounds, as alleged, but was halted in the streets. Coxey and his officers then separated and repaired to the capitol grounds, not as the leaders of a body of men, but as individuals. Coxey asked Speaker Crisp personally for permission to speak on the capitol grounds."

sion to speak on the capitol grounds."

Mr. Osborn says he has delivered speeches in several of the principal cities of the east. He spent two weeks in Boston and while there delivered speeches under the auspices of all the principal labor organizal tions. He refers with special pride to the ovation tendered him when he spoke in Faneuil hall.

"The sentiment in behalf of free silver is growing throughout the east," said Osborn. "The late advocates of high tariff are beginning to realize that their mills can't work until the consumptive capacity of the people is increased. In fact a free silver league has been organized recently in Boston, and throughtout Massachusetts and New York the money problem is prominent. I didn't find the people there wedded to the republican party at all."

DEMOREST CONTEST

Will Take Place Tomorrow Night in the Grand.

ATLANTA HAS A DIAMOND MEDAL

The On'y One Which Has Been Won in the State or Georgia-Something Unique in Contests.

The contest for the Demorest silver medal will take place tomorrow night at the hall of the Southern Shorthand and Business in-stitute in the Grand.

There will be six contestants, Miss Lucile Patrick, Miss Frank Miller, Edwin Drain, Cliff Jones, Tom Pym and Arthur Mat-

The occasional competition for these medals has become highly interesting to a great many people in Atlanta, and the interest in the contest this year promises to be greater than ever.

The Demorest medals are given in the cause of prohibition by William Jennings Demorest, of New York, who was prominently mentioned in connection with the nomination for president on the prohibition ticket during the last presidetial campaign and who is said to have been defeated through Rev. Sam Small's efforts for Bid-

Mr. Demorest inaugurated his system of giving medals in this manner in May, 1886, and during the years that have intervened between that time and the present he through his agents, has distributed thous-ands of medals, not only throughout this country, but in France, Germany, Australia and the Sandwich islands. The first medal was awarded in Georgia in 1890 and since then Mr. Demorest has given away over 300 of these trophies to boys and girls and young men and women in this state.

Tht medals are of four grades, the silver medal, the gold medal, the grand gold medal and the diamond medal. The intrinsic value of the diamond medal is $150.

The plan by which these medals are awarded is not in the least complicated.

Mr. Demorest secures the services of a representative of one of the different temperance or prohibition organizations in each state, and through this agency the medals are distributed. Whenever and wherever six young people between the ages of twelve and twenty-five express themselves as being willing to enter a contest for one of these medals they are encouraged to do so. The rules governing the contests are simple. It is required that those participat-ing shall deliver speeches from one of three books, containing addresses favoring prohibition compiled by Mr. Demorest. One of these books contains an address delivered by Henry Grady, another one a sermon delivered by Dr. Hawthorne and a speech on prohibition delivered by the late Senator Colquitt. Education of youth in the principles of temperance and prohibition of the liquor traffic is the idea that Mr. Demorest had in mind when he decided to make these liberal awards, which have cost him more than $20,000 annually.

The first medal contested for is the silver medal. Whenever six holders of silver medals can get together they can contest for the first gold medal. When eight holders of this medal agree to compete for the grand gold medal they can do so by complying with the rules governing the contests and the same rule applies to competitors for the diamond medal.

All money raised at the contest by charg-ing admission must be used, under the rules, in local prohibition work.

Mrs. M. L. McLendon is the agent of Mr. Demorest in Atlanta and the contest tomorrow night will be under her direction. There are now in Atlanta fourteen holders of gold medals. There is one winner of the diamond medal. To win this medal is considered a very high honor. It is particulative so in the case of Miss Margaret Badger, the only holder of a Demorest diamond medal in Georgia. Miss Badger won her silver and first gold nedals in Atlanta. Her second gold medal was awarded her while she was attending school in Pennsylvania. In 1892 Miss Badger learned that there was to be a contest for a diamond medal in Denver, Col. The young lady was then but fourteen years old, but she determined to enter the competition. She persuaded her mother to allow her to do so and went from Atlanta to Denver alone, and there, among strangers, won the distinction she had so pluckily sought over a field of strong con petitors.

Mrs. McLendon says that a wonderful amount of good has been accomplished through this novel method adopted by Mr.

During the competition tomorrow night Miss Annie Madison and Mr. John Corrigan, winners of medals in former contests, will speak, but not as competitors.
